Have you decided the time has come to change your watch? Or perhaps you are looking for a gift that will leave the recipient open-mouthed? Take a look at the Hammock box set. For the Summer '19 collection, it is available in two versions. The steel bracelet strap is paired with a navy blue silicone strap, making it perfect for those in search of an accessory that catches the eye, whether worn with a suit for meetings or with sporty attire on a boat. The second box set, designed for those who prefer a more casual yet striking look, encloses two silicone straps, one navy and one red. The dial sees clean lines and finds unusual guilloché craftsmanship inspired by waves. There are other details that capture attention, such as the two-tone upper ring in blue and red, and the crown and calendar at 4. In the Hammock range, the American maison has also included two other variations with a canvas strap: black with the first quarter of the crown in red, or blue with a case in rose gold steel. Every model can withstand depths of 100 metres, allowing them to accompany you on your deep-sea explorations.
