DIAL

Black, luminous red and green hands and indices, adjustable minute bezel: chronometer indices at 30 minutes, partial time, date and 24 hours

At a glance, it is instantly apparent this timepiece has been designed for performing in the water, on land and in the skies. It comes across loud and clear. Mission Bay has a bold character, a masculine appearance and the total black look for those who know what they want and how to get it. Always, in any situation: no objective is impossible for this chronograph designed with action in mind. The attitude is made of steel, as is the 46-millimeter case with a supersize screw crown. The style accent is placed on the bright red or green luminous indices and hands which contrast against the black. Mission Bay is the loyal, reliable companion for any feat, thanks to its resistance to 10 atmospheres and the wealth of information displayed on the multifunction instrument dial. Its DNA is one hundred percent Nautica Watches: this is revealed by the 12 iconic flags from the nautical alphabet marking the indices. And the knowledge you can depend on it. Always.
