Nautica watches introduces NMX 1600, an innovative chronograph that is strong in appearance, light in weight, and the perfect companion to transport you from day to night.

The XL size steel case has a fully skeletonised construction, with the entire middle section and lugs cut away to reveal the red anodised aluminium components inside, which stand out powerfully against the backdrop of the watch's ultra modern architecture. Also red in color, the réhaut and the central chrono seconds hand contrast with the all-black dial and emphasize the sporting spirit underscored by the watch's perforated silicone strap. The technical look and feel of the timepiece is reflected in a high precision quartz movement that can calculate partial and intermediate times.

Aesthetically striking, NMX 1600 is the ideal expression of determination and individuality.
